Note: Annual meeting of Friends of Montague Museum will meet May 22, 7 pm at the Montague Masonic Lodge, Dowling St Montague. The annual Museum summer potluck picnic is Aug. 6th at noon. It's the Montague Museum's 50th year so there will be a special cake.

Accomplishments of WLAHS in 2013: Unexpectedly large attendance at every program, with a great variety of presenters, many newcomers, and lots of familiar faces, too:

- Great kick-off with Jan Klco's History Day competitors showing off their projects on "Turning Points in History;"
 - Lovely sunset with tours outside Lyon's Den and along White Lake, learning about shoreline restoration project;
 - Fascinating show about Noah Ferry's family history concluded by a tour of Ferry Memorial Church on a toasty July evening;
 - Perfect "Celebrate White Lake" sunshiny day with tours on the Jackson and displays by owners of historic resorts along White Lake;
 - Wind and chill spiced up the August gathering at Maple Grove park, learning about the marina and Barteau history;
 - Well-researched presentation to an overflow crowd in the carriage building by the new owners of the Lewis House;
 - A foreboding (who knew?) of this rugged winter with films of ice boating on White Lake.
- Thanks to all presenters for their hard work and commitment to deepen our sense of history!*

National History Day Competition

At the time of this printing, advisor Jan Klco reports a large number of students advancing to the state contest on April 26th. Many of them will present at the WLAHS meeting on May 15. The theme of the 2014 National History Day Competition is Rights and Responsibilities:

Youth Division, Group Exhibit:

Allison TenBrink and Alyssa Brouwer (5th, Mr. Knowles) - "Keep Calm and Stop Oil Spills"

Junior Division:

Group Performance: Avery Christensen and Isabelle Uganski (6th) - "On the Field and in the Classroom: Title IX Provides Women with the Opportunity of a Lifetime"

Group Exhibit: Lauren Geiger and Vanessa Heylmun (8th) - "The Antarctic Treaty: Scientific Rights & International Responsibility"

Senior Division:

Papers: Matt Gilbert (11th) - "Apartheid: White Dominance in Black South Africa"

Ind. Website: Lucas Champoux (9th) - "Roman Society: Establishing the Rights of the Common Citizen"

Group Performance: Randi Mikkelsen (11th) and Taylor Mikkelsen (9th): "Afghan Women's Rights: One Step Forward and Two Steps Back"

Ind. Exhibits: Mackenzie Brandel (10th) - "Liberating Nazi Camps: Taking Responsibility for Restoring Lost Rights"

Kaylee Picard (10th) - "Broken Treaty, Trampled Rights: Signaling the Collapse of the Sioux Nations"

Mariah Olsson (12th - Montague) - "Exploiting a Culture, Exploding the Land: Nuclear Testing in the Marshall Islands"

MEINHARDI BUILDING UPDATE by Helen Fink

Montague-Whitehall Rotary has given us a generous matching grant of up to $3500 to build cabinets and counters in the Meinhardi building! Ken Giddus, a local craftsman, skilled in restoration work, will build them with period woods and fixtures. We need at least $2500 more for the this project's completion. (Mr. Giddus has given us an estimate of $5-7,000 depending on our final design.)

Since moving the building, we have accomplished a lot:

new cedar shake roof and front façade	installed front and back stairs
brought electricity to the property	scraped and stained exterior	(cont.)

interior carpentry and repair a beautiful ceiling repair and staining installed an all season heating and cooling unit created a lovely brick patio (it's not too late to buy a brick!)
 created a charming medicinal herb garden

interior painting
 interior lighting and electrical outlets installed security system erected handicap access

What's left to do? Cabinetry and counters (we need $2500 more to do this), floor refinishing, artifact placement (we have a commitment of $5000 to procure artifacts!), signage, and minor landscaping. So with the help of this community, we are nearing completion!

Can you help? We're coming to the home stretch! No contribution too small!

Historic Preservation Awards

The 2013 personal residence winners of this award were Jeff and Dawn Auch, both enthusiastic gardeners for their home at 8605 Old Channel Trail, located across Knudsen St. from the old Ferry Memorial Church. In the past six years of residency, they have improved the house, added a chicken house, and developed their double lot with many gardening and permaculture features, reducing the need for lawn and lawn mowing.

The 2013 commercial winner of the Historic Preservation Award was Pekaill's. Their original structure was built in 1873 by two brothers from Norway. Its adaptive reuse began with its progression from granary to meat market before being shuttered in 1983. It was then restored and reopened as the current ice cream parlor and sandwich shop in 1989, celebrating its 25th anniversary this year.

Many thanks to committee members Cassie Ellis, Ellie Dennis, Cal and Jane Lane, Ruth Pitkin, Lois Ekstrand, and Roger Scharmer for their work in observing and selecting the winners of this yearly award.

Some extra treats this summer include "Taste of White Lake" on June 5 and the Friends of the Montague Library Summer Book Talks Wednesday mornings in July. All Book Talk presenters this year are authors themselves, including local writer Susan Newhof about her new edition of Michigan's Town & Country Inns (July 2) and Doug Paprocki's tale of illustrating, editing and publishing his wife Gretchen's naturalist memoir, Beside the Inland Sea (July 23).

Members of the White Lake Area Historical Society are encouraged to invite family and friends to our various events. Everyone is welcome. But please remember that it is your yearly dues (or lifetime membership) that help sustain our programs, so don't forget to send in your form across from this page. Tom Lohman, our new Membership and Corresponding Secretary, has worked hard to make sure your information is individualized so that you know about your dues status.
